SAS HONORS PROGRAM ANNOUNCEMENTS

Introduction to the Thesis!
Are you going into your junior year and starting to think about your Capstone Project? There are still seats left in Introduction to the Thesis (01:090:391) – it is a great way to start preparing for your Capstone Project.

An Interesting Fall 2010 Course
Of Men and Supermen: Italian Literature and Fascism
Course No. 01:560:316
Instructor: Paola Gambarota
Tuesdays and Thursdays, 1:10 PM – 2:30 PM

How does literature justify, survive, and fight the terrors of a totalitarian regime? In our readings of 20th-century Italian literature, we will examine the fascination with the new 'superman,' the myth of empire building, the poetry of dissidents, narratives of resistance fighters, the testimony of Jewish writers, and women rewriting history. Taught in English, by special permission, it will count toward the major in Italian.

Rutgers Internship and Co-op Program
The goal of the Rutgers Internship and Co-op Program is to assist students in their educational and career development through an experiential learning opportunity to develop their skills as professionals. For details about the program, the on-line course, or eligibility requirements, go to http://careerservices.rutgers.edu.

Rutgers Gardens
Rutgers Gardens would like to provide an opportunity for registered Rutgers student organizations to showcase their groups at the weekly Farmers Market. Each week the Market attracts people from both the local and University communities. We invite you to present a program or state a performance to promote your organization. The Market is held on Friday afternoons, April 30 – October 29, from 12 PM – 5 PM. For more information, contact Mary Ann Schrum at schrum@aesop.rutgers.edu.
