

Rutgers Day

RUTGERS SASHP NEWSLETTER

Wednesday, April 24, 2019

Dear SAS Honors Program Students,

I've said it before, but I take comfort in traditions. I like having something to look forward to year after year. Like my family running the Big Chill together, going down to the beach for the 4th of July, and getting Chipotle on Halloween. This Saturday, I'll be joining my family for my fourth or fifth Rutgers Day. We'll be staying on Cook campus as usual, seeing the sheep pageant and rummaging through a used book sale. Every year we find new things to do and new people to join our group. This year, my cousins and aunts will be coming along with some of their significant others. Having annual traditions is a comfort: no matter how much my circumstances change or I grow as a person, there are a few things I can always go back to.

Here are some events coming up. Stop by McCormick lounge for some donuts and advising with Dean Kim-Lee! See the exciting research conducted by your peers at the Aresty Research Symposium. Apply to the Grossman Interdisciplinary Research Team Fellowships for a unique research opportunity. Give back to your community by joining NJPIRG for a Feaster Park Clean-Up. Read about the experiences of Crystal Lam in the newest Senior Spotlight! Keep up with the lives of honors students by reading the most recent Honors Blog Posts.

From all of us at the SASHP, enjoy the week!

With warmest regards,
Julianna Rossano
Student Director of Honors Media

In this Newsletter

Events p. 2

Donuts with Dean Kim-Lee

Aresty Research

Symposium

Grossman Interdisciplinary
Research Team Fellowships

Events & Media p. 3

Feaster Park Clean-Up

Senior Spotlight: Crystal
Lam

Honors Blog Posts

Final Exam Conflicts

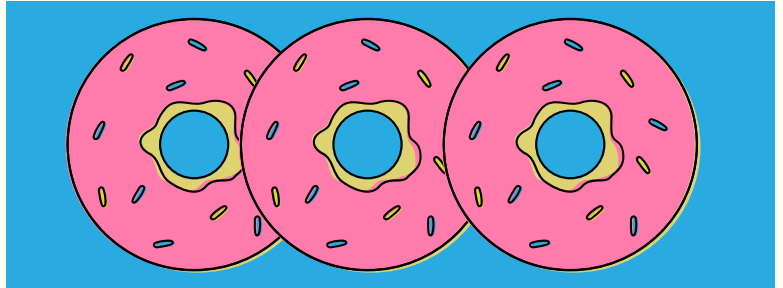

Be sure to check your final exam schedule! If you have more than two final exams scheduled consecutively, you may be able to reschedule. For more information, visit finalexams.rutgers.edu.

SASHP Newsletter

Campus Events

Donuts with Dean Kim-Lee

Need advice on classes, your college career, or life in general? Drop in for donuts and honors advising with Dean Kim-Lee! April 29, 2 - 4 PM in McCormick Lounge, Busch Campus.

Aresty Research Symposium

The Aresty Research Center for Undergraduates invites you to join in celebrating remarkable undergraduate researchers in the sciences, social sciences, humanities, and arts. The symposium features a variety of interesting topics shared by students through their research poster presentations. April 26, 10:30 AM - 3:00 PM at Livingston Student Center. Counts as an Honors Colloquium outside event

Grossman Interdisciplinary Research Team Fellowships

The Grossman Interdisciplinary Research Team (GIRT) is accepting applications. The GIRT Fellowships support multidisciplinary projects that expand traditional notions of research. Apply in teams of 2-5 rising sophomores and juniors to work on a semester or year-long project that requires research and results in a product or deliverable. Specific projects recruiting students are Designing Tour for Visually Impaired Audiences at the RU Geology Museum, Modeling Crowd Diversity to Design Inclusive Environments, RU Science Explorer Station: the on-campus tour experience, and The Missing Bones. Click here for more information and to apply (deadline May 10th).

For a full calendar of events, click here.

SASHP Newsletter

Events & Media

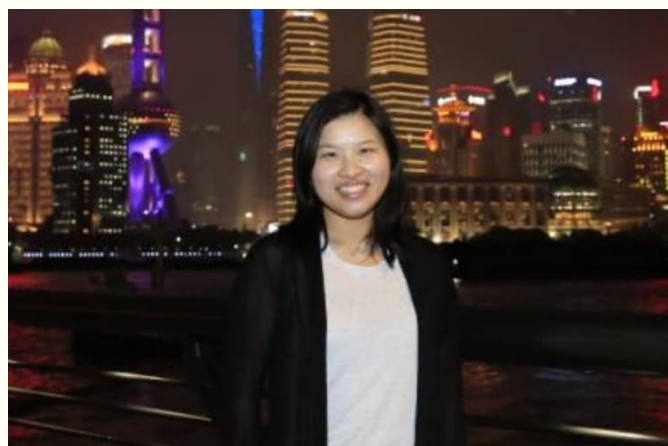

Feaster Park Clean-Up

It's never too late to celebrate Earth Day. Join NJPIRG in an effort to take care of the environment and clean up Feaster Park! If you're part of a community organization, feel free to bring your members. Supplies will be provided. May 4, 11 AM - 3 PM at Feaster Park, New Brunswick.

Senior Spotlight: Crystal Lam

Check out the SASHP Blog to read about Crystal Lam in this week's Senior Spotlight. She is graduating with degrees in English and Chinese and minors in education and middle school math. She is also a member of Phi Beta Kappa, president of RU Future Teachers Association, and a SASHP Senior Leader Awardee. Read more about her advice, experiences, and plans for the future at rutgershonorsblog.wordpress.com.

Honors Blog Posts

Keep up with the lives of honors students! Check out this month's blog posts about the improv dance Byrnes seminar, a review of Jordan Peele's Us, reasons why dogs are the best pets ever, and tips on how to prepare for an interview. Visit rutgershonorsblog.wordpress.com to read.

For more opportunities, click here.

Follow Us!

@RutgersSASHP

@RUSASHP

rutgershonorsblog.wordpress.com

SAS Honors

@RU_SASHP

