RUTGERS SASHP NEWSLETTER

Monday, February 3, 2020

Dear SAS Honors Program Students,

Our first full week of classes is over, and it's time to finally settle into a routine. Syllabus week is but a fond memory. Add-drop week is over, and I'm actually starting to use my textbooks. The semester has begun in earnest. For the spring, I'm setting the same goal I always set for myself: to do just a little bit better than last semester. Although my classes are getting more difficult, I know that I can rise to the occasion. Onwards and upwards!

Here are some fun events coming up. Join the SASHP for a Bus Trip to Philadelphia Museum of Art. Plan ahead by attending the Honors Capstone Workshop. The RUCCS invites you to the lecture "The impact of cognitive and indexical variability in the use of prosodic cues in meaning processing." Test your problem-solving skills at the Citi x Rutgers Solve-A-Thon. Looking to study abroad? Join professor Paul Blaney for his summer program Creative Writing and Walking in England. Show off the life of an honors student by applying to be a HIPster (Honors Instagram Poster). Buy your ticket for the annual SASHP Winter Formal! Show off your artistic talent by submitting to the newest Artists Collective Exhibit. Check out the Honors Blog for remarks from last year's senior speaker.

From all of us at the SASHP, enjoy the day!

With warmest regards,
Julianna Rossano
Student Director of Honors Media
